THE WOODBOOGER'S GUIDE TO THE ATLANTIS WINTER '26

Did you know the Virginia Woodbooger is Appalachia's own bigfoot/cryptid/hairy humanoid? Originating in Monacan and Mannahoac oral traditions, it was referred to as the "Ahiwiagehi" or "Forest Shadows."

SO YOU'RE AT A SHOW AND PEOPLE ARE STARTING TO SURF. YOU'RE BEING A GOOD CONCERT GOER — LETTING THE PEOPLE AROUND KNOW THAT A SURFER'S COMING, KEEPING YOUR TOUCHES APPROPRIATE, AND HELPING UP ANYONE THAT FALLS — WHEN SUDDENLY YOU GET THE ITCH: "I WANNA TRY THAT."

STEP 1: ACCESS THE SCENE. DOES THE MUSIC AND VIBE OF THE SHOW MAKE SENSE FOR CROWD-SURFING? ARE THERE ENOUGH PEOPLE TO ACTUALLY HOLD YOU UP? DON'T JUMP IF THERE AREN'T; YOU'LL HURT YOURSELF AND THE PEOPLE UNDER YOU.

BE AWARE OF OTHER SURFERS; YOU DON'T WANT TO RUN INTO ANYONE, AND REMEMBER, MOST PEOPLE DON'T GO TO A SHOW TO HOLD SOMEONE UP THE WHOLE TIME — A CROWD THAT'S ALREADY SUPPORTING 3 PEOPLE IS A CROWD THAT'S ABOUT TO DROP YOU.

STEP 2: ASSESS YOURSELF. BE AWARE OF YOUR SIZE AND CLOTHING CHOICES.

NOT EVERYONE WANTS TO BE PIERCED BY YOUR STUDDED SHORTS

OR GET A PLATFORM BOOT TO THE FACE

STEP 3: UNLOAD AND PREP. HAND ANYTHING YOU DON'T WANT FLYING INTO THE ABYSS TO A FRIEND; THINK WALLETS, PHONES, HATS, ETC.

STEP 4: ASK FOR A LIFT. ASK SOMEONE TO HELP YOU UP; DON'T JUST START CLIMBING ON PEOPLE. IF THEY DECLINE, RESPECT THAT.

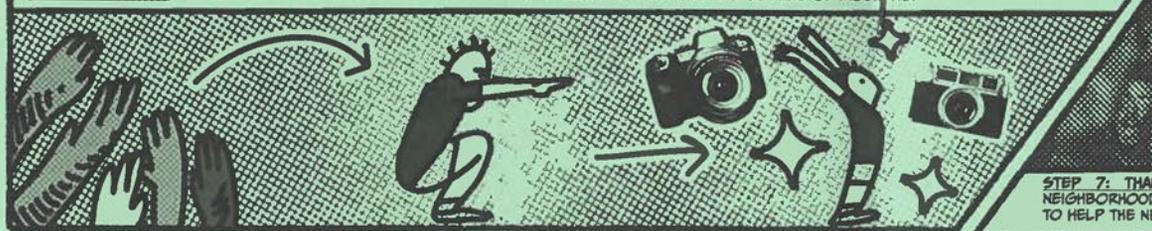

STEP 5: FORM. ONCE YOU'RE UP, SPREAD OUT. DISTRIBUTE YOUR WEIGHT EVENLY BY SPREADING YOUR ARMS AND LEGS. STAY STIFF AND LET THE CROWD MOVE YOU NATURALLY.

KEEP YOUR FEET ELEVATED TO AVOID KICKING PEOPLE IN THE HEAD. STAY ON YOUR BACK — STOMACH SURFING TURNS YOUR KNEES INTO WRECKING BALLS AND MAKES YOU HARDER TO HOLD UP.

STEP 6: DISMOUNT. STAY ALERT. KEEP YOUR HANDS FREE IN CASE YOU'RE SUDDENLY DROPPED AND BEWARE OF MOSQUITOS.

STEP 7: THANK YOUR LANDING CREW. GIVE A NOD/THANKS TO YOUR FRIENDLY NEIGHBORHOOD BOUNCER OR SECURITY STAFF WHO HELPS YOU DOWN. NOW YOU'RE READY TO HELP THE NEXT SURFER.

Our archives stretch decades across I.M.P.'s venues, right up through whoever just played last night — so head on over and give us a follow, 'cause we'd love to hear what shows you'd like us to #CrackTheVault for.

Plus, stay tuned for some -exclusive new content- where we take you Behind The Barricade to hear from the house photographers themselves — everything from how they got started to What's In Their Bag and more!
